7	Signature Page289	9
	Signature Page290		Q. (BY MR. GRZYB) Good morning, Mr. Dane,
8	Court Reporter's Certificate291	10	and thank you for your time today. My name is Darren
9	•	11	Grzyb. I'm a lawyer with the firm of Chiesa,
10		12	Shahinian & Giantomasi. I have four surety clients
11		13	that are involved in this case: Everest, Aspen,
12		14	Berkeley, and Sirius.
13		15	It was our notice of deposition that was
14 15		16	issued from my office signed by me that today's
16		17	proceeding relates to. As I said, today is a
17		18	deposition. Have you been deposed before, Mr. Dane?
18		19	A. No, I have not.
19		20	Q. Then I think it is important to start
20		21	with some ground rules. The format of today's
21		22	proceeding is a question-and-answer session. I will
22		23	be asking you questions, and it is important that I
23 24		24	issue verbal questions and you are to give me verbal
25		25	responses. You can't shake your head, particularly 20

now that we're doing this by Zoom, but you shouldn't do that in the first place in a deposition. So it is important that you give me verbal responses.

It is also important that you understand the question. If I ask a question, and you don't understand it, but you give an answer, I will assume that you've understood the question. It is also important that you and I and Mr. Perez, to the extent he interposes an objection, don't talk over each other because our friend, Michelle, is transcribing everything that we say and, therefore, it will be hard for her if we talk over each other for her to transcribe what we say.

That's another point, the description of this. Michelle, Madam Court Reporter, is typing out all the words that we say. So at the end of this, what we will have is a transcript of everything we say: My questions, Mr. Perez's objections, and your responses.

It's also important that if you would like to take a break -- it could be a long day, I have no problem with us taking breaks, so if the challenge might be that you're not in the same room with Mr. Perez, I will be very understanding if you want to take a break; and frankly, I will likely need to take breaks during this process as well.

That's all I have for now in terms of ground rules. If you have any questions as to the ground rules, let me know.

Do you have any questions?

A. No, thank you very much.

MR. PÉREZ: So, Darren, this is Alfredo
Perez, before we get started, the -- you've provided us -- we have had the courtesy of you providing us several depositions with the exhibits that we have reviewed. Several of the exhibits have been marked
"Confidential" and several of them have been marked
"Highly Confidential," pursuant to the Protective
Order that was ordered by the Court.

So I just want to make sure that everyone on the -- that is in the Zoom deposition -- and there are approximately 40 participants -- has either agreed to be bound by the terms of that and that there aren't -- there isn't anyone here who's otherwise not -- you know, that -- that the debtor is protected as a result of that deposition.

So I suspect that when you're going in -when you're going into documents that were marked "Highly Confidential," you'll alert us so that we can check that again, but that is my only comment at this cash flow to be able to represent an attractive business proposition to stakeholders that are investing hundreds of millions of dollars of new capital as a part of that restructuring.

- O. So, just to paraphrase what you have said, 80 percent deepwater, 20 percent shelf, and of that 80 percent that's in deepwater, how many are those, again, are wells that Fieldwood has drilled and that you're the first entity in the chain of title?
- A. Fieldwood drilled five wells in deepwater on leases that generally have extensive chain of title ownership or very significant predecessor, and more of those wells were drilled with co-working interest owners.
- Q. And then now coming out of bankruptcy, it's my understanding that you have -- and was the Genovesa well one of those five or was that considered a different well?
 - A. No, that was -- that was one of the five.
- Q. And now coming out of bankruptcy, it is my understanding that Fieldwood would like to drill six more wells. Is that your drilling plan?
- A. The plans generally contemplate one to two three wells per year, but again, the strategy is focused on a business plan that has a disciplined capital investment program and the ability to generate cash flow.

- Q. And those wells are the Katmai 2, 3, and 4, the Gunflint, the CPN, and the Big Bend Number 2; is that correct?
- A. Those are wells that are in our inventory and incorporated in our projections. We have a significant inventory that's under a continuous evaluation, and like any company, we're always looking for the best opportunities to pursue at any given time.
 - Q. Have all of those wells been permitted?
- A. No.
 - Q. Have you any of them been permitted?
 - A. Can you recite for me which wells again you're -- you're asking about?
 - Q. Certainly. And I'm not intending to trick you, so if -- if you have a question or if I'm ever inarticulate, and I have been -- I have been that before, just let me know. I want to make sure you understand my questions.

Has the Katmai Number 2 been permitted?

- A. It has not.
 - Q. Has the Katmai Number 3 been permitted?

Q. Has the Katmai Number 4 been permitted?

A. No.

- Q. Has the Gunflint been permitted?
- A. There is multiple wells in the Gunflint and the Gunflint's yield. I'm not aware that those wells have been permitted.
 - Q. Has the CPN been permitted?
 - A. No.
 - Q. Has the Big Bend Number 2 been permitted?
- Q. Will each of those wells be a similar deepwater well to the Genovesa well or are some of those also shelf wells?
- A. The wells that you specified are deepwater wells.
- Q. What does it cost typically to drill a well like that?
- A. There is a wide range of costs for drilling deepwater wells. A dry hole cost of a sidetrack may be as low as 20 or $30 million. A deep, new well may cost, for the dry hole cost, in excess of $60 million.
- Q. What did it cost when you drilled the Genovesa well, just by reference?

A. I believed the dry -- I don't --

MR. PÉREZ: Yeah, if you don't know -but I'm a little concerned about, you know, continued questions about Genovesa, which, as you know, have been the subject of significant disputes between the parties, and I don't think this is intended to be a deposition relating to Genovesa, but I mean, if you know, the answer, if you have the number, if you know the number.

MR. DUEWALL: If he has a number? He is the CFO. I'm asking him what the budget was when it got drilled. I think he should know that. And I'm not asking anything else right now, so let's not jump -- let's not get too far ahead of ourselves with our objections.

THE WITNESS: Yes, I would have to consult our records. I don't have the number at my fingertips.

- Q. (BY MR. DUEWALL) And do you know what the de-com cost would be for a well like the Genovesa
- A. A deepwater well can cost anywhere from eight to $20 million to be decommissioned is probably a general range.
 - Q. You cut out when you were talking, and I
